

The 8th International Workshop of Kyoto T Cell Conference

~~March 1 (Monday) - March 5 (Friday), 2021~~

~~October 4 (Monday) - October 8 (Friday), 2021~~

Cancelled April 30, 2021

Dear all,

It is regrettable to announce that we have eventually decided to cancel the international KTCC 2021.

Although very effective vaccination is steadily spreading in some countries, optimism is not allowed. In Japan, the the B.1.1.7 variant strain is spreading at this moment. Currently, a state of emergency was declared for Tokyo, Osaka, Hyogo and Kyoto prefectures. In addition, in Japan, vaccination procedure has been very much delayed than expected (0.7% at present).

Accordingly, olympic game committee has already decided not to welcome audience from abroad for Olympic games, and recently has started to think of having the event without audience. All in all, we thought that it is difficult to have participants from abroad in this October without some mandatory quarantine time, as such current two weeks.

Given that KTCC's policy is to encourage the discussion based on unpublished findings in person, we are not positive for making a Web meeting.

We sincerely hope that, the whole world overcomes the pandemic in 2022, and we can see you all in ThymOz 2022 meeting.

With best regards,
